Kingston, ~~R.I.~~ Mass. The writer says he wanted to meet [Rev. May?] at a meeting in Bridgewater on the following day, but was prevented from doing so by illness. Is dissatisfied with the methods of the Abolitionists. "I wish some of our speakers felt more earnest to win souls,..., and less eager to utter strange things,-more desirous of spreading a reform than of blowing up a revolution." Objects to Anti-Slavery Conventions being held on Sunday. "When Anti-Slavery is crowned, I doubt whether William Lloyd Garrison will be the acknowledged champion. He may win the battle,...but a Winthrop or a Lawrence will win the laurel."

To Mrs. Maria (Weston) Chapman

«Rochester, n.Y.» In Western New York "the great body of honest-hearted abolitionists" are connected with the Liberty Party. Its leaders, such as Gerrit Smith and William Goodell, "are sound on the Church question." Suggests that if the Constitutional question could be thoroughly discussed in Western New York, many converts would be won for the doctrine of "No union with slaveholders!" The circulation of the Liberator would be more effective than that of the Standard, which is not "very well adapted to our latitude." Tells of a proposition to support Frederick Douglass as a lecturing agent.

To George Montagu Dunk, second Earl of Halifax, 1716-1771.

Boston

[~~Written from~~ ?] Gives his opinion of affairs in America and points out the necessity of keeping an army at the Gates of Canada--Lord Loudoun in Albany can do nothing to assist Nova Scotia. Since naval force not sufficient to support two fleets, and neither regular troops from Europe nor militia practicable, we must take Quebec. Hopes his position will be continued when the Establishment for America is voted on next year. Will write soon about "the villanously false paper that has been published against me in England."
